3. From the inside of your felt, poke the needle and thread through 1 of the layers. Pull the needle and thread through until the knot stops you pulling more.

4. From the opposite side of your animal, push the needle and thread through both layers of felt. The thread should form a loop which will be your first stitch.

5. To make your next stitch, bring your needle and thread back around and push it through both layers of felt next to the first stitch.
